for the past year of $19,155,400.79, according to the annual report of James
B. Doherty, Commissioner of Labor and Industrial Statistics, made public yesterday. The net gain in thirty of these industries is $21,437,553.49 over the previous year, while thirteen show a loss of $2,282,152.70.

This is regarded as an exceedingly satisfactory showing, indicating a steady increase in industrial operations in this State.

Growth of business is shown by reports from the following industries: Artificial ice, bags, breweries, brick-layers, boots and shoes, canneries, cigars and cigarettes, coal and coke, You'd better stock up here cotton mills, excelsior, fish oil and fish now atandaround half-prices! guano, furniture, general contractors, iron and machine works, knitting mills, line and machine works, knitting mills, lime and cement, paper and pulp mills, paper and tin boxes, plumbing, printing and binding, sash, doors and blinds, sawmills, slate quarries, soapstone, spikes and hubs, staves and cooperage, stone quarries, stoves, tanneries, tobacco, trunks and bags.

These show a decrease: Agricultural implements, baking powders, brick and tile, brooms and mattresses, carriages and wagons, flour, glass, overalls and shirts, painters and paperhangers, pickles, silk mills, woodenware boxes and woolen mills.

OBITUARY

Charles P. Young. for twenty-five years foreman of the composing room of the old Richmond Dispatch, a printer of highest ability and a veteran of the Civil War, died yesterday afternoon in Grace Hospital, after an illness of several weeks. He was seventy-one years old. Although for the last year it was known that he was in failing health, his death came as a shock to his friends. He was taken ill shortly after Christmas, and after remaining in his home. 23 North Lombardy Street, for some weeks, was removed to Grace Hospital.

The arrangements for the funeral have not been completed, but it is expected that it will be held to-morrow. He was unmarried, and had lived for many years with an only sister, who died recently. He leaves one brother. Joseph L. Young, of Portsmouth, and a half-brother, W. Henry Marshall, of Newport News. His remains were carried from the hospital yesterday evening to the residence of his nephew, George M. Young, of 764½. East Leigh Street.

Mr. Young was born in Richmond. With the exception of the four years he spent in the Confederate army, his life was spent in this city. He rose steadily in his chosen profession, performing with notable ability his difficult duties as the mechanical head of the Richmond Dispatch. For the last seven years he was one of the proofreaders on The Times-Dispatch. He served through the Civil War in Crenshaw's Battery, of Pegram's Battalion, and fought on the field of Gettysburg.

Edward Gray.

Edward Gray, for many years a clerk in the office of the Commissioner of the Revenue, died about 1 o'clock yesterday at his home, 111 North Fourth Street. He had been ill for several weeks. He was eighty years of age, and served during the war as a member of the Richmond Howitzers. For many years he had been an elder in the Grace Street Presbyterian Church, from which the funeral will take place, though the hour has not been fixed.

He is survived by his wife and several children. He had been connected with the office of the Commissioner of the Revenue for more than a quarter of a century and had a wide acquaintance throughout the city.

Bedford City, Va., February 17.—C. W. Wharton, deputy clerk of Bedford County, died yesterday evening about 7 o'clock, of heart trouble, aged sixty-one years.

He had been ill only about a day, and his death was a great shock to his friends, not many of whom knew of his friends, not many of whom knew of his of a century, and had a wide acquaintance throughout the city.

It is beyond human power to perform miracles. The makers of Eckman's Alterative, a remedy for Consumption, do not claim that it will restore every one to perfect health, but so many have voluntarily testified it saved their lives, that all who have this dread disease should investigate and try it. It should stop the night sweats, reduce fever, promote appetite and in very many cases, prolong life. Read what it accomplished in this case:

CHARLES LINCOLN SMITH. Refractionist.

you have blurring, dizziness, neuralgia, headache, spots before the eyes, winking, trembling spells, cataract, burning and smarting of the eyes, various nervous and brain affections, entailing not only positive injury to the sight, but untold misery, call immediately.

The one I loved so dear:
The vision grows so clear at times,
I feel he must be near.

Days of sadness still come o'er me,
Tears of sorrow silently flow;
Tond memory keeps my father near me,
Though Heaven claimed him two years ago.

By his devoted son,
A. J. SMITH

Jury to the sight, but untold misery, call immediately.
